

Internet Feature Usage and Impact Analysis - May 2026

This document presents statistical chart analyses for major internet features and user engagement trends in May 2026.

1. Social Media Feature Popularity

Short-form video platforms dominated internet engagement in May 2026, followed closely by private messaging features.

2. Influence of Short-Form Video on Engagement

User engagement continuously increased as short-form video usage expanded across platforms.

3. AI-Powered Search vs Traditional Search

3. AI-Powered Search vs Traditional Search

AI-powered search tools gained major adoption, nearly matching traditional search usage.

4. Messaging App Daily Activity Features

Encrypted messaging and interactive reactions were among the most frequently used messaging features.

5. Teenager Internet Feature Popularity

Teenagers heavily preferred short-form video and gaming-related social interactions.

6. AI Assistant Tools Usage Frequency

Conversational AI and AI writing assistants recorded the highest usage rates.

7. Voice Search vs Text Search Usage

7. Voice Search vs Text Search Usage

Voice search showed strong growth but text search remained dominant for detailed queries.

8. E-commerce Platform Feature Interactions

Personalized recommendations and one-click checkout generated the highest customer interactions.

Key Overarching Trends

- AI integration became a major driver of internet engagement.
- Personalized content feeds significantly improved user retention.
- Short-form videos dominated social media interactions.
- Mobile-first experiences continued to shape internet usage patterns.
- Convenience-focused features such as voice search and AI assistants grew rapidly.